Gal. 6:14

THE CRUCIFIED ONE

The world that crucified my Lord
Makes overtures to me,
And offers pleasures and reward
If I will faithless be.
But when in Jesus' death I died
The world to me was crucified.

The world that crowned my Lord with thorns
Would crown me with success
If I would walk as one who scorns
The crown of righteousness.
But I will never cast away
The crown I hope for "in that day."

The world that pierced His hands and feet,
And smote my Saviour's side,
Would tempt me with some vain conceit
To pander to my pride;
But all earth's vanities are dross
To those who glory in the Cross.
